Dear Professor Lederberg:

It was very good to have your letter of January 30, which was awaiting my return to the country this morning. In fact, it is one of the first letters that I am answering after my arrival.

The copies of your three articles have been turned over to the editorial staff of our "Rehovoth" publication, and I hope that one of them will be used in due course. We shall write and ask you to clear the copyright approval for us before its use.

We shall certainly be delighted to make ourselves responsible for the trip to Israel for your wife and yourself whenever you find yourself in Paris or Milan some time "in the next year or two or three," as you so delightfully put it. You are right in assuming that my previous invitation encompassed the possibility which you mention. I am sure that you will find not only a great deal to interest you in the work that is proceeding here, but also a warm welcome from our biologists and others at the Institute.

With kindest personal regards and warm wishes,

As always sincerely,

Meyer W. Weisgal
